EXECUTIVE ESTATES | FARMINGTON, MN
Plumbing
Project Profile
Executive Estates, a community of single-family homes in the growing town of Farmington, Min., is a new development by Johnson-Reiland Builders & Remodelers that sets the standard for modern and affordable housing. As construction began, REHAU heard from longtime customer, Paul’s Plumbing & Heating, who wished to install the new EVERLOC+™ compression-sleeve fitting system. The EVERLOC+ power tool and the system’s consistent compression-sleeve technology proved easy and quick for plumbers Jed Corriveau and Todd Gylling.

“The EVERLOC+ fittings are better quality, better built than what we’ve used in the past. They are also a lot easier to put together,” said Todd Gylling, co-owner of Paul's Plumbing & Heating. His employee, Jed Corriveau concurred and added “EVERLOC+ is one of the better systems. Plus working in the cold, I do like that the PEXa pipe is more flexible.”
