Matt. Durable. Resistant.

The trend away from high-gloss surfaces and towards elegant, matt designs is sweeping through the entire furniture industry. Whether in living spaces, offices, kitchens, bathrooms, shop fittings or hotels – matt is in demand everywhere.

Yet with matt surfaces in particular, differences in quality in the materials and processing are especially noticeable. It is often the edgeband of a component that is exposed to especially heavy wear. This begins during component production when the edgebands are processed, and continues later on owing to all the stresses the edgeband is subject to in everyday life.

RAUKANTEX Noble Matt is the innovative solution.
