VETRO-LINE GLASS TAMBOUR DOORS

Bring Glass Back Into The Kitchen

The new and improved Vetro-Line glass tambour door system brings glass back into the kitchen with a smooth, refined look. With a hint of transparency, the contents inside the cabinet can be seen, but not completely revealed. The Vetro-Line features slats made of real tempered glass, allowing for strength and durability. The sleek surface, along with the door system creates a modern, industrial look that is well suited for a range of kitchen styles and functions.
